Description

The Wellness Superio Brief is highest quality brief built for active use that will not tear or develop pinholes even during constant movement. The white plastic backing stays quiet - without the crinkle sounds typical of other briefs. Superio's wider core provides protection from bowel incontinence as well. The brief is latex free and has a re-sealable landing zone.

Featured on Discovery Channel's How Stuff Works, Superio briefs will last up to 8 hours using NASA inspired multi layered InconTek technology similar to designs used by astronauts in space for long missions. The unique scheduled changing system is easy to use. This is revolutionary because changes can actually be scheduled to only once in eight hours/ three in 24 hours putting the wearer or caregiver in control with no worry of any exposure to the effects of urine. Fewer changes = big savings and less need for costly creams and ointments.

New feature! SpeedSorb absorbs liquid up to 400% faster than our previous designs. This ensures that the skin remains dry even from the onset of exposure from a void.
